PRESIDENT IS PLANNING

AN IMPORTANT SPEECH Washington, June 14.

Washington, June 11.—President
Wilson is planning one of the most important speeches of the war for the Flag Day celebration here June 14. Officials believe it will be a more comprehensive statement of the aims and position of the United States than even his message to the provisional Russian government.

Washington, June 11.—A resolution by Senator Ashurst of Arizona authorizing the secretary of the interior to invest in liberty loan bonds millions of dollars of Indians' tribal moneys was passed today by the senate.

At least $11,000,000 of such funds now lie idle, drawing no interest or leas than that of the liberty bonds.

Uruguay's Trade.

Trade between Uruguay and the United States shows phenomenal gains since the war. Imports from Uruguay in the nine months ending with March, 1997, are, in round terms, $13,000,000 against a little over $5,500,000 in the same period over two years ago, while the exports to Uruguay are approx-imately $10,000,000 against three and one-third million dollars two years

ACIDS IN STOMACH

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How To Treat

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble indigestion, sourness, burning. gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

IN LIBERTY LOANS the Flag Day Celebration at At Least $11,000,000 is Lying Idle Drawing Little or No Interest.

Prohibitionist Speaks at Westerly

Rev. Edwin Simmons, Who Made Michigan Dry, Addresses Ministerial Association-Check for $108,000 Received to Settle Claims for Perry Day Illness-Howard E Thorpe New Assessor-Women Census-takers Brave

Rev. Edwin Simmons, introduced as the "man who made Michigan dry." made the address at the regular meeting of the Westerly Ministerial association, held Monday in the Memorial building. After Michigan was enrolled in the prohibition column, Mr. Simmons was assigned to Rhode Island, and succeeded Rev. A. B. Christy, as secretary of the Rhode Island Anti-Saloon League, and proposes to convert Rhode Island to liquor prohibition. He urged the ministers to unite in the work for freeing Westerly from the rum demon and outlined a plan which, if successfully followed, would result in placing Westerly where the town rightly belongs on the liquor question. He said it was up to the churches to work out the problem and the ministers' part was to take the leadership.

Rev. Mr. Simmons occupied the pulpit of the First Bantist church Sunport of the summors she fell and coast Artillery corps, is this home in Stonington on short furlough.

Miss Beulah Hazard of the extension department of the New Hampshire State college, is on vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Natt Hazard.

The strike is still on at the plant of the American Velvet mill in Stonington, and all departments are closed. The ghost walks today and the strikers will call for the pay due them.

Stonington is booked for a baseball game with Westerly at Westerly next friday afternoon. The game is for the championship cup and will decide the ownership of the trophy.

While Mrs. R. F. Ballantine, at her home in Newark, N. J., was preparing to visit Watch Hill to supcavise improvements of her cottage prior to get the summer she fell and

Rev. Mr. Simmons occupied the pul-plt of the First Baptist church Sun-day evening and spoke in the interest of the anti-saloon league, and its work. He said he had no word or ar-gument against the brewers, the li-quor dealers or saloonmen as that was quor dealers or saloonmen, as that was not in his line. He said all that was required to put Westerly in the right column was the vote of the two D's, the drys and the doubtful, as they surely outnumbered the liquor class, not only in Westerly, but in every town in the state. He explained the methods necessary for a systematic canvass and in getting out the dry and the doubtful votes on election day for the right settlement of the liquor quor dealers or saloonmen, as that was for the right settlement of the liquor license question. It was a matter wholly within the control of the church people of Westerly.

At the conclusion of the address by Rev. Mr. Simmons, there was a bus-iness session, and these officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Rev. F. Stewart Kinley, pastor of the First Baptist church; Rev. Frederick A. MacDonald, pastor of the Congregational church, secretary.

Lewis A. McGowan, a Providence lawyer, secretary to Congressman O'Shaunnessy, has received one of the largest amounts ever paid in the settlement of a case within the memory of the officials of the United States court for the Buffalo district. The check is for $108,000 and is the result of a decree of Judge Hazel. The money is to be distributed by Mr. McGowan, less his portion to the claimants, who instituted suit against the owners of steamer Rochester, because of damages suffered by sixty-four of those who took passage on the steamer in connection with the Perry celebration at Put-in-Bay, in 1913. The party was composed of the Rhode Island delegation, which included state officers, members of the general assembly and state military. The cause of the damages was an epidemic of typhoid fever contracted by reason of the meanitum abound the typhoid fever contracted by reason of the unsanitary conditions aboard the steamer, and several deaths resulted. among them Representative Charles W. Clarke, of Ashaway, son of Wil-liam L. Clarke, a former president of the Westerly town council.

Mr. McGowan, as attorney for all the claimants, has power of attorney from each of them that delegates the right to him to determine what each claimant will receive. Under the agreement, it is reported that Mr. Mc. Gowan will receive $54,250 for his services. At a special meeting of the Westerly town council, the committee ap-taxes to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Richard J. But-ler, reported as a candidate for the office, Howard E. Thorpe. The report of the committee was accepted and Mr. Thorpe unanimously elected. His term expires when his successor is clected at the annual town meeting in 1319. Mr. Thorpe is well equipped for the office. He is serving a second term as a member of the Westerly town council.

At a meeting of young women con-nected with the churches of Westerly, organization was partially formed to be known as the Girls' League for hristian Services. Miss Lua Stuart Docking, daughter of the late Rev. John T. Docking, who was president of Rust university, Holly Springs, Miss., was chosen chairman and Miss Abby Denison secretary. Canother of Rust university, nony springs, Miss, was chosen chairman and Miss Abby Denison secretary. Canother meeting will be held soon to complete the organization, which will be an auxiliary to the Women's League.

FOR FORTY YEARS

A SCHOOL TEACHER Dr. Edward F. Bigelow Took Charge of Montville Center School When 17 Years Old.

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Sound Beach, June 11.—Dd. Edward Bigelow has just arrived home from Montville, where he went to celebrate, with the Center school of that town, an interesting occasion. It has been 40 years since he first went to Montville to teach school. At that time he was 17 years of age, and had been called from Bacon academy. Colchester, to take charge as principal of the Montville Center school, although he had completed only two years of his course at the academy. The situation at Montville was peculiar. The authorities of the school of the situation of the s thorities of Bacon academy had been thorities of Bacon academy had been requested to send to the Center school a teacher big enough and robust enough to protect the school and to prevent himself from being forcibly ejected by the "big" boys. In those days the pupils in many schools considered it highly creditable to them-selves if they threw the school teacher out of doors. This was usually done on the first day. Having tossed him into the bushes, they told him to head homeward, and he usually obeyed. The request to Bacon academy was for a teacher who could stay in the schoolroom. It was not necessary for him to know anything else than how to stay. Staying qualities were more im-nortant than much 'earning. As Dr. Bigelow was about six feet tall, weighed nearly 200 pounds, and had come out of the wild woods as a hunter and trapper, where he had been trained by a prize fighter, it was thought that he might fill the bill because "Bill," the famous hunter and prize fighter, had drilled him and taught him certain drilled him and taught him certain valuable movements that might aston-ish those "big" boys. The new teacher stayed in that schoolroom. He did the teaching. He was not taught by being thrown out of the window. If anyone took his departure by means of the window it was not the new teacher. Several of the pupils were o'der than he but he stayed with them. o'der than he, but he stayed with them. And, after an interval, they stayed with him. Recently he told the story of his preliminary training, and of some assistance that he had rendered to a woman who had been to Norwich to buy a sewing machine. The story, entitled "Prize Fighting and Sewing Machines," was published in The Sewing Machine Times, New York city. Copies of the article were circulated in the Montville school, together with a recent essay from The Christian Endeavor World, by a natgether with a recent essay from The Christian Endeavor World, by a naturalist friend of Chattanooga, Tenn. These two articles resulted in an invitation for the former teacher to visit the school after 40 years and give his former pupils an opportunity to do what at that time they were compelled to leave undone—throw him out of the schoolhouse. The naturalist jocosely said that it might be a dark and deeplaid plot but as he is still six feet high, he still weighs an eighth of a ton, so he went. ton, so he went.

The present superintendent of schools suggested that the old teacher deliver a lecture, the proceeds to be devoted to the taking of the senior class of 1917 to the capitol at Hartford. The exercises included a roil call with responses a history of the school at the capitol at the capitol call with responses a history of the capitol and the capitol at the capitol and the capitol call with responses a history of the capitol and with responses, a history of the school, kind and regretful words for the pupils that have died, and a general rally of

DON'T BEBALD

Here's a Good Way to Stop Loss of Hair and Start New Growth

If your hair is thinning out, prematurely gray, brittle, lifeless, full of dandruff and your head litches like mad it's a pretty sure sign the dangerous dandruff germ is busy on your scalp and quick action must be taken to save what hair you have and start a new growth. Don't wait until the hair root is dead, for then nothing can help you, but get from your druggist about four ounces of Parisian sage and apply as directed—it don't cost much and there is nothing you could use that's any better. It was Dr. Sangerbund, the famous Paris specialist, who discovered that dandruff and falling hair are caused by a microbe—then came the discovery of the value of the genuine Parisian sage (liquid form) to destroy this germ and prevent further loss of hair and the formation of dandruff. You will surely be deligned with the first application, for your hair will be bright-looking, all itching ceases and your scaln feels cool and comfortable. A few massages with Parisian sage are all that are usually needed to destroy the germs that cause dandruff to form, and very soon you should be able to see the new hairs coming in. Parisian sage is a favorite dressing with discriminating women because it is delicately perfumed, does not stain or streak the hair and makes it lustrous, soft and fluffy. Be sure you get Parisian sage (Groux's), for this brand has the guarantee of "erfect satisfaction or money returned printed on every package. Lee & Osgood can supply you.

Among the pupils of the reunion were some of the most prominent men and women of Montville and of various other paces, including a present representative of the legislature, a judge of probate, and so on. The oldest pupil of the school, now nearly 58 years of age, presided. Though he holds a prominent position in a large manufacturing establishment. Dr. Bigelow called him his senior pupil and insisted that he come to the front of the teacher's desk put his heels together, turn his toes out at an angle of 45 degrees, make a bow and recite a little ditty. was an adjournment to the school-house near by for the roll call. Dr. Bigelow went into the schoolhouse and Bigelow went into the schoolhouse and wondered why his pupils delayed their coming. After a somewhat impatient wait of a few minutes he went out to find these prominent men and women on the playground and to be rather indignantly informed that they were not in the habit of coming in after recess—only 40 years this time—until he rang the school bell. Recess immediately closed. diate'y closed.

At the close of his principalship of this school 40 years ago Dr. Bigelow returned to Pacon academy, but off and on, with intercalated preparatory, and on, with intercalated preparatory, college and general biological laboratory work, he has always been a school teacher. At present he is a member of the faculty of the Wabanaki school at Greenwich. Although he has for the last 32 years been printer, publisher and editor, he has never lost his interest in the schools nor in school work, uring the greater part of that third of a century he has visited schools at least once every week, and has been associated with many private institutions. He was a visitor at has been associated with many private institutions. He was a visitor at The Castle, Tarrytown-on-Hudson, New York, every Friday and Saturday for 10 years, and in addition to this work, which he considers delightful, he is the editor-in-chief of The Guide to Nature, the official organ of the Agassiz association, of which he is president, and which is the exponent of Louis Agassiz and of his teachnent of Louis Agassiz and of his teach-ing. He admires Louis Agassiz and takes pleasure in continuing Agassiz's work, not only on account of his ad-miration for Agaesiz as a scientist, but chiefly because of that famous marks missionary spirit as a teacher. Dr. Bigelow's favorite expression is "I have always been an editor with a school-teaching attachment," so strong an attachment that he is constantly in those schools in which he has been engaged as a teacher, in universities, colleges, teachers' institutes, where he has been an instructor of teachers. In all the world there is no grander call-ing than that of a teacher. Upon that profession depends the molding of profession depends the molding of every human mind. The editor may help to mold public opinion, but his work can never equal that of a teach-er. The teacher takes the mind before it has become casehardened and he can, at least to a certain extent, do what he pleases with it.
